More Safety & Savings WITH INDUCTION COOKING

With its magnetically generated heat, induction cooking is the safest way to give your residents the opportunity to prepare meals. All heat is generated by and restricted to the actual cookware, meaning the surface of the cooktop remains cool to the touch. More importantly, the cooktop will never turn on without the proper cooking vessel in place. We also offer solid disk cooktops with cast iron elements, which offer extreme durability and sealed surfaces for spill-proof cooking.

The coil automatically cycles back on after a few minutes, allowing your residents to resume heating without incident.
